MORE than 12 years after her divorce from hubby Tom Cruise, Nicole Kidman is still harping about how much it hurt – and a source says her current hubby Keith Urban is sick and tired of hearing about it.

Nicole and Keith met in 2005 and tied the knot in June 2006, six years after her split from Cruise. They have two daughters together, Sunday Rose, 5, and Faith, who turns 3 this month. Yet in the fall, Nicole told “DuJour” magazine about the shock she felt when the “Mission: Impossible” star walked out on her just two months after their 10th wedding anniversary.

“I WAS REELING WITH TOM,” she said. “I was totally smitten. I fell madly and passionately in love. I would have gone to the ends of the earth for him. I thought our life together was perfect, and it took me a very long time to heal.”

But when the 46-year-old actress recently spoke with Australian “Harper’s Bazaar,” it sounded as if the split was still an open wound.

Discussing her 2003 Oscar for “The Hours,” Nicole said her victory was overshadowed by the demise of her marriage to Tom – even though it had taken place three years earlier. “The award can show you the emptiness of your own life, which is what it showed me,” she revealed. “I was having professional success, and my personal life was struggling.”

And in “Vanity Fair’s” December issue, Nicole again waxes on about Cruise.

“There is something about that sort of existence (with Cruise) that if you really focus on each other and you’re in that bubble, it’s very intoxicating because it’s just the two of you. It brings

COUGAR COURTNEY HOT FOR TOYBOY ED, 22

LIFE is imitating art for Courteney Cox – the 49-year-old “Cougar Town” beauty is putting the moves on British singer Ed Sheeran...and he’s only 22!

The unlikely couple met at an industry event earlier this year, and “Courteney gushed to Ed about what a huge fan she was of his music,” said the source.

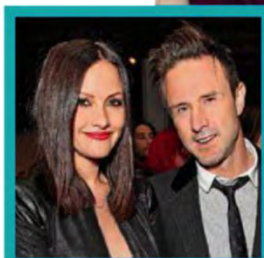

That apparently didn’t sit well with then-beau and “Cougar Town” co-star Brian Van Holt. The two reportedly broke up over the summer.

“NOW THAT COURTNEY IS SINGLE, she’s not making any bones about putting the moves on Ed,” the source continued. “She offered to let him live at her Malibu home, where he’s been writing songs and chilling out.

“Courteney is seducing Ed by wining and dining him at the best restaurants in L.A., and she introduces him to friends as ‘my little stud muffin.’”

As The ENQUIRER reported, Courteney struggled emotionally after her 2010 split from David Arquette, father of her 9-year-old daughter Coco. And it didn’t help when he recently announced that he was expecting his first child with girlfriend Christina McLarty, 32.

Ed, who romanced Taylor Swift earlier this year, posted a photo online of Courteney with her arms wrapped around him and wrote that she “lets me live in her beach house.”

Despite the coy posting, the source says the two are keeping the relationship quiet because Ed is concerned his teenybopper fans will be turned off by the May-December romance.

“But he definitely finds Courteney’s real-life Mrs. Robinson ways irresistible,” the source added. “And Courteney says that being adored by a younger man makes her feel like a million bucks.”

you very close, and it's deeply romantic.

"I'm sure Brad and Angelina have that because there is nobody else that understands except that person who's sleeping right next to you."

And even though Nicole assured the interviewer that 46-year-old Keith is "her great love" – all this reminiscing about Cruise has gotten on the country star's nerves.

"Keith knows Nicole loved Tom and that she intended to be married to him for the rest of her life when he suddenly left her," said a close source. "He gets all that – but Tom and Nicole's divorce was finalized way back in 2001 and now it's almost 2014. He's fed up with hearing Tom's name when they're together and has told her it's time she moved on."

Leo & Orlando FIGHTING OVER MIRANDA

LONGTIME friends Leonardo DiCaprio and Orlando Bloom are at war over Bloom's wife, "Victoria's Secret" model Miranda Kerr.

JUST DAYS AFTER THE AUSTRALIAN beauty and Orlando announced they were ending their three-year marriage, "Wolf of Wall Street" star Leo started hitting on Miranda, determined to make her another notch on his bedpost.

Leo's brazen move outraged the "Pirates of the Caribbean" star, and their years-long friendship went straight into the toilet, say insiders.

"Miranda is Leo's dream girl," revealed a close source. "He's had the hots for her for years but mostly kept his distance out of respect for her marriage. About a month ago Orlando told Leo that he and Miranda were splitting up and he was brokenhearted over it. Leo comforted his pal, saying, 'I know better than anybody – there are plenty of other fish in the sea.'"

THEN LEO, 39, TURNED AROUND AND ASKED 30-year-old Miranda – mom of Orlando's 2-year-old son Flynn – out on a date. As The ENQUIRER recently reported, Leo has been under pressure to have a child because his mom Irmelin is desperate to be a grandmother.

"Orlando was shocked that a friend would stab him in the back so callously," said the source. "He told Leo to lay off, at least until his divorce is final."

But Leo may have some serious competition as Miranda is reportedly dating Australian billionaire James Packer, 46.

Still, the source said that Orlando, 36, grumbled to another pal: "With friends like Leo, who needs enemies!"

ATHRILLED Britney Spears has said "I do" to beau David Lucado's marriage proposal – and now she's planning a secret wedding in Hawaii, say sources.

"Britney is head over heels in love again and wants to marry soon after the new year," revealed a family insider.

Britney has been dating the 28-year-old Virginia native for nearly nine months and told an interviewer: "He's just a simple man. I adore him. He's really funny and he's really passionate."

SHORTLY BEFORE HE PROPOSED, David, who worked in a law firm, took the 32-year-old singer to visit his family in his hometown of Appomattox, Va., because his 93-year-old grandmother wanted to size her up.

Happily, grandma and the rest of his family gave their approval, and Britney's parents are said to be equally enthusiastic about the match. "During her visit, Britney saw that David has country roots similar to her own in Louisiana," said the source.

Britney has been wed twice before, briefly to Jason Alexander and then to Kevin Federline, the father of her two sons – Sean, 8, and Jayden, 7.

"Britney is ready to marry again and have more children," revealed the source. "She's dying to have a little girl and she's certain she's found the right man this time. This is the first time she's let a man actually propose to her. In her other two marriages, she proposed to them."

"Now she's busy making elaborate plans for a Hawaiian wedding and favors Maui, where she's had many wonderful times."

BLAKE SHELTON and Miranda Lambert are tangled up in a shocking murder investigation that has the country superstars gearing up for a legal battle, sources tell The ENQUIRER.

Blake has vowed to bring justice to the memory of his friend and mentor, outlaw country artist Jerald Wayne Mills, who was shot to death in a barroom altercation shortly before Thanksgiving.

Mills, the 44-year-old front man for the Wayne Mills Band, was allegedly killed in cold blood when Nashville's Pit and Barrel bar owner Chris Ferrell shot him in the back of the head just before 5 a.m. on Nov. 23. He leaves behind a wife of more than 20 years, Carol, and a 7-year-old son, Jack.

Now Blake, 37, is calling for a full-scale murder investigation into the bloody slaying.

"At first, Blake was in shock when his manager called and told him that Wayne died in a shooting," said an insider. "But now that he's had some time to process the news, his hurt and heartbreak is turning to seething anger."

WITNESSES SAID THE ARGUMENT erupted because Mills had been puffing away on a cigarette in a nonsmoking area of the bar. The men fought, and Ferrell shot Mills, who later died at Nashville's Vanderbilt University Medical Center.

According to reports, Ferrell, who had a valid permit to carry a handgun, told police he gunned down Mills in self-defense.

"Blake can't wrap his head around how a disagreement over smoking could lead to shots fired and someone's life being snuffed out," revealed the insider. "He broke down to Miranda and said, 'I can't let my buddy's death be in vain. I'm going to bring justice to his memory.'"

But Blake wants more than justice says the insider – he's also out for blood.

"Privately, he told Miranda, 'I'd rip Chris Ferrell apart limb by limb if I had the chance.'"

"Blake didn't mince words – he thinks Ferrell is the worst kind of coward."

"NOW BLAKE IS DETERMINED TO use his fame and money to push for an exhaustive investigation into the circumstances behind the slaying.

"He's willing to testify or serve as a character witness for Wayne – whatever it takes to help cops bring a homicide charge."

"And Miranda is fully behind Blake. She told her husband, 'An eye for an eye, baby. I'll support you through this nightmare.'"

Another source noted: "Blake got his start opening for the Wayne Mills Band. Wayne took a chance on him and, now, Blake feels strongly that he has to repay the favor."

"Besides spearheading a homicide investigation, Blake wants to do anything he can to help out Wayne's widow and his young son."

"He's already talking about doing a concert on their behalf and getting some other country music superstars, including Miranda, involved."

Just hours before he was killed, Mills watched Blake and Miranda perform at a tribute concert to the late country great George Jones at Nashville's Bridgestone Arena.

"Blake likes to act like he's a 'don't-give-a-damn, good-time guy,' but truth is, he's fiercely loyal to those who helped him become a star," a friend said.

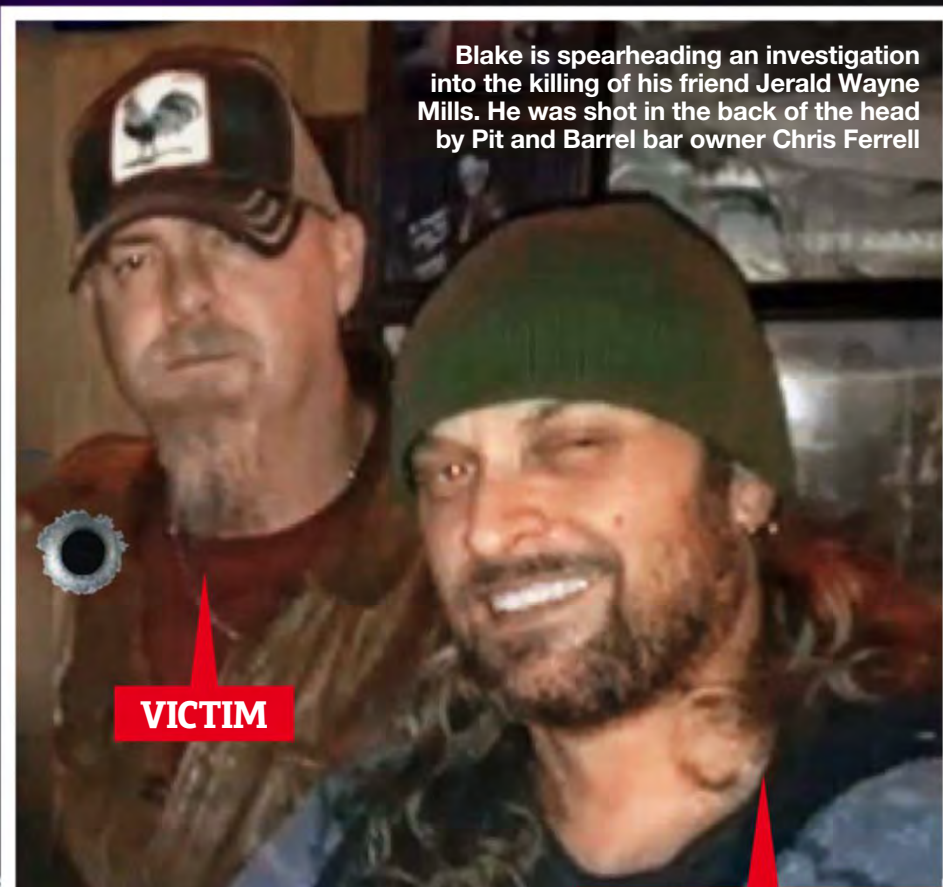

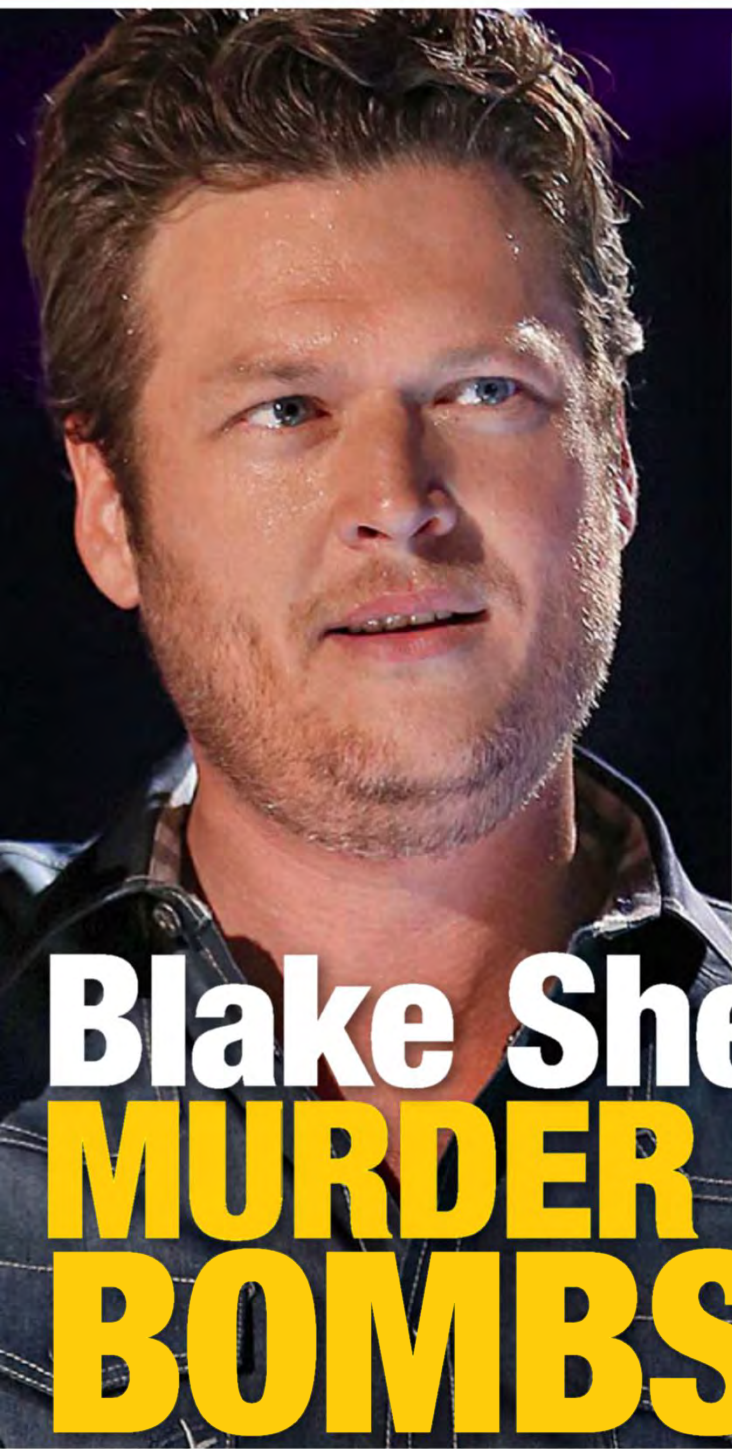

"Wayne was a few years older than Blake, and Wayne took him under his wing when he was just finding his feet as a performer. Even after Blake hit the big-time,

Country star VOWS REVENGE over pal's shooting death

The bloody slaying took place at Nashville's Pit and Barrel bar

he stayed close friends with Wayne and Carol.

"What hurts Blake the most is this all seems so senseless – it's really hit him in the gut."

The tragedy has affected Blake so deeply that the notorious party boy has been re-examining his own life.

"Wayne's death has shown him that one night of misadventure can lead to tragedy and horrible consequences," explained the friend.

"He told Miranda that Wayne's death has served as a wake-up call and he's going to learn to dial back his wild ways.

"He feels he not only has a responsibility to her, but also to Wayne's memory."

GRANDPA LANDS PLANE AFTER PILOT COLLAPSES!

John Wildey kept his cool in a terrifying situation. At right, the plane he was forced to land

Passenger, 77,
HAD NO FLYING EXPERIENCE

A SHORT jaunt in a pilot pal's small plane turned into a flight of terror for 77-year-old grandfather John Wildey when his friend collapsed, leaving him to fly and land the aircraft!

With the dying pilot slumped beside him, John – who had no flying experience – knew he had to act fast as the tiny Cessna aircraft chugged along above the English countryside. But with darkness falling and no lights on the dashboard, he had no idea which way he was going and how fast he was descending.

FORTUNATELY, HE DID HAVE ONE LIFELINE – a headset linked to the plane's radio. Fighting back panic, he began describing his perilous situation to air traffic controllers.

"At first, I just didn't know what the hell to do," admitted John. "I thought: How long can I keep her going?"

As precious seconds ticked by, controllers at Humberside International Airport in North Lincolnshire halted flights to and from the airport. And the Royal Air Force dispatched a Sea King helicopter to help guide the Cessna on a nail-biting 25-mile trip to the airport.

Roy Murray, chief instructor at the airport's

I just didn't know what the hell to do”

Flying instructor Roy Murray was called in to guide John. Above, the Humberside airport flying school, was contacted at home and raced to the tower's radar room.

"The atmosphere was all calm," he recalled. "Nobody was panicking."

He decided to talk John through a "blind landing" using only basic instruments – the throttle, the steering column and the brakes.

Around 7 p.m., the control tower made visual contact with the plane in the darkening sky.

As the critical landing grew close, Murray reminded John it was essential for him to keep the nose up and steer clear of the runway's landing lights because hitting them could cause a fuel leak and a deadly fire.

Summoning all his courage, John followed the instructor's advice and began his final approach. But his angle was wrong, and with his heart pounding, he had to abort the landing and try again.

Twice more he tried and failed before finally touching down on his fourth attempt. But it was far from a smooth landing. The nose was dangerously low, and the little plane hit the ground hard. Spewing sparks, it headed right for a wall at the end of the landing strip. But John was able to bring it to a safe stop, ending the 70-minute ordeal. He was unharmed but, sadly, his pilot buddy was hospitalized and later died.

While John has been hailed as a hero since the early October drama, he insists the praise should go to those who helped him land.

"They all did their best," he said. "I was just the person holding the stick."

Ashton & Mila FIGHTING OVER $100M PRENUP!

Wedding plans ON HOLD

JUST as Ashton Kutcher wrapped up his prolonged divorce battle with Demi Moore, he's now facing a bitter showdown with girlfriend Mila Kunis over a $100 million prenup!

The "Two and a Half Men" star is insisting that Mila sign on the dotted line – and a source says she wants nothing to do with it.

"Ashton wants to protect the massive fortune he's earned, but Mila is resisting," explained an insider. "She's royally insulted because she stood patiently by his side throughout his fight with Demi. "They're both so bullheaded, and neither is budging. This money battle is threatening to wreck their romance."

Ashton, who's worth more than $100 million, and $150 million woman Demi separated in November 2011 after six years of marriage. But wrangling over money held up a final divorce settlement until November of this year.

Demi Moore

"MILA WAS SO RELIEVED when Ashton finally resolved things with Demi, then days later he tells her he'll only marry her if she agrees to sign a prenup," said the source. "But Mila is very traditional and feels that a prenup is a bad omen."

According to the source, Ashton, 35, and Mila, 30 – who co-starred on "That '70s Show" – were planning on finalizing wedding details over the holidays, but the squabbling over the prenup has forced them to shelve those discussions for now.

AS Kirstie Alley brings her new sitcom to TV Land, she's ignited a bitter behind-the-scenes battle with her former friend Valerie Bertinelli, a source says.

Kirstie's self-titled show launched on Dec. 4, joining Valerie's "Hot in Cleveland," which has been a huge success on the cable network.

"They used to be friends, but now Kirstie hates Valerie's guts," said a Hollywood insider. "Kirstie is joining TV Land and she's trying to undermine Val as if there's not enough room for the both of them."

KIRSTIE RECENTLY TOOK

a jab at Valerie on Twitter, suggesting that the former "One Day at a Time" actress had hooked up with Kirstie's ex-husband, Parker Stevenson. The liaison supposedly occurred when Valerie – who was just 18 at the time – guest starred in a 1978 episode of "The Hardy Boys/Nancy Drew Mysteries."

"Ummm, were you messin' with my man back then?" Kirstie tweeted, along with a photo from the set.

Valerie tweeted in response: "Ha! I was jailbait back then."

While Valerie good-naturedly tried to pass the whole thing off as a joke, the insider says Kirstie was dead serious.

"Even though she wasn't married to Parker back then, Kirstie remains insanely jealous of any woman she thinks he's had a tryst with – especially Valerie," said the insider. "The truth is, Valerie makes Kirstie sick because she beats Kirstie at virtually everything she does."

As The ENQUIRER reported in 2010, Kirstie has a long-harbored hatred toward Valerie for successfully losing weight – and keeping it off.

It was Kirstie, a former spokesperson for weight-loss giant Jenny Craig, who brought Valerie on-board as a celebrity endorser for the company in March 2007.

The next year, Jenny Craig dumped Kirstie for piling the pounds back on.

"Kirstie was outraged and humiliated over her ouster from Jenny Craig," said the insider. "She hoped sales would go in the toilet without her, but Jenny Craig's business boomed after Valerie signed on."

Valerie tried to extend an olive branch to Kirstie, suggesting that she could help her lose the more than 83 pounds she'd gained back.

Valerie said at the time: "She should come work out with me!"

"She should remember you can't do everything in one day (and) her exercise has to be consistent. She can do this. There's no doubt in my mind."

The insider said Valerie's comments were like "adding insult to injury" for Kirstie.

"She felt that Val was rubbing her nose in her failure," the insider continued. "It just added fuel to the fire."

VALERIE ALSO HAS HAD TWO

top-selling books – "One Dish at a Time: Delicious Recipes and Stories from My Italian-American Childhood and Beyond" and "Losing It: And Gaining My Life Back One Pound at a Time."

But former "Fat Actress" Kirstie was looking better than ever two years ago after her appearance on "Dancing with the Stars." Thanks to her grueling practice sessions – and the work she put in after the show ended – she managed to drop 100 pounds. Since then, however, she's ballooned back up again.

Valerie, on the other hand, still looks great and has kept off the 47 pounds she lost with Jenny Craig.

Valerie has even beat Kirstie in love. The 53-year-old wed former financial planner Tom Vitale in 2011 while Kirstie, 62, continues to come up empty in the romance department.

"Seeing Valerie is a reminder to Kirstie of all her failures, so she's largely avoided her," said the insider. "But that's going to be difficult now that they both have shows on TV Land."

Especially from JENNIFER ANISTON, because “SNL” star JASON SUDEIKIS doesn’t want Jen to know he’s moved heaven and earth to get perks equal to hers when he films their “Horrible Bosses” sequel! Explained my source: “On the first flick, Jen had a much bigger dressing trailer, bigger hotel suites, a personal chef, and a trainer on the set. This time, Jason wanted star treatment too, so he ordered his reps to demand a so-called ‘favored

Because they’re such good friends, however, he’s keeping it all hush-hush because he doesn’t want Jen to know that he was jealous. But now that filming’s started on “Horrible Bosses 2,” Jason’s happy as a clam in his beautiful oversize trailer with his personal chef, workout person, etc. (Hey, Jason, me and my gossip fans won’t breathe a word, pal.)

He was extremely embarrassed – literally red-faced – and kept apologizing nonstop for his clumsiness. But rather than skipping out and leaving the staff to clean up his mess – like a lot of stars would – James spent several minutes making sure each and every item was put back on the shelves. Then he yanked his baseball cap down over his eyes and exited – still red-faced and still stammering apologies!"

When the couple finally pulled into the owner's driveway, a man rushed outside – stunned to spot his beloved pet in an Oscar winner's arms. Gushed Goldie: "I'm so thankful you had your information on that tag. He's a real cutie." The man stammered "thank you," and as the star smiled and walked back to the car, he shouted, "Wait – let me give you the reward!" ENQUIRER
INVESTIGATION

SICK, TWISTED WORLD of Sandy Hook killer Adam Lanza

ESCAPE: Frightened children are led to safety.

PSYCHO mass murderer Adam Lanza hated to be touched by his own mother and communicated with her only by email even though they lived in the same house.

Those are just two of the stunning revelations made in a new report released one year after the twisted triggerman slaughtered 26 innocent people – including 20 first-graders in 11 minutes – in a crime that shocked the nation.

And The ENQUIRER can reveal chilling photos of the 20-year-old madman's lair, giving insight into the demented fiend's bizarre world before his bloody rampage at Sandy Hook Elementary School in Newtown, Conn.

MEANWHILE, THE KILLER'S re-married 55-year-old father Peter Lanza is now a “broken man,” so wracked with shame over the massacre that he put his Stamford, Conn., home up for sale. And Adam's mom Nancy – his first victim – continues to be blamed for pandering to him, taking him to shooting ranges and keeping weapons in the house.

“More and more people are pointing their fingers at Adam's parents,” said a source. “Not only did they ignore warning signs, they also enabled him to pursue his heinous hobbies.”

The new report, compiled by the Connecticut state attorney's office,

Breakthrough technology converts phone calls to captions.

New amplified phone lets you hear AND see the conversation.

The Captioning Telephone converts phone conversations to easy-to-read captions for individuals with hearing loss.

Do you get discouraged when you hear your telephone ring? Do you avoid using your phone because hearing difficulties make it hard to understand the person on the other end of the line? For many Americans the telephone conversation – once an important part of everyday life – has become a thing of the past. Because they can't understand what is said to them on the phone, they're often cut off from friends, family, doctors and caregivers. Now, thanks to innovative technology there is finally a better way.

A simple idea... made possible with sophisticated technology. If you have trouble understanding a call, the Captioning Telephone can change your life. During a phone call the words spoken to you appear on the phone's screen – similar to closed captioning on TV. So when you make or receive a call, the words spoken to you are not only amplified by the phone, but scroll across the phone so you can listen while reading everything that's said to you. Each call is routed through a call center, where computer technology – aided by a live representative – generates immediate voice-to-text translations. The captioning is real-time, accurate and readable. Your conversation is private and the captioning service doesn't cost you a penny. Captioned Telephone Service (CTS) is regulated and funded by the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) and is designed exclusively for individuals with hearing loss. In order to use CTS in your home, you must have standard telephone service and high-speed Internet connectivity where the phone will be used. Federal law prohibits anyone but registered users with hearing loss from using IP Captioned Telephones with the captions turned on. Callers do not need special equipment or a captioning phone in order to speak with you.

"For years I avoided phone calls because I couldn't understand the caller... now I don't miss a thing!"

SEE what you've been missing!

Finally... a phone you can use again. The Captioning Telephone is also packed with features to help make phone calls easier. The keypad has large, easy to use buttons. You get adjustable volume amplification along with the ability to save captions for review later. It even has an answering machine that provides you with the captions of each message.

See for yourself with our exclusive home trial. Try the Captioning Telephone in your own home and if you are not completely amazed, simply return it within 60-days for a refund of the product purchase price. It even comes with a 5-year warranty.

Murder fantasies at age 10

Adam Lanza showed signs of being a homicidal maniac when he was just a 10-year-old fifth-grader by penning a violent storybook called The Big Book of Granny. The twisted tome chronicles the evil adventures of a gun-toting granny and her "son."

In the eight-chapter book, Granny robs a bank with a shooting cane, guns down soldiers at a Marine boot camp and even travels back in time to murder The Beatles. Most prophetically, she threatens to shoot and kill students in a classroom! She also kicks the son into a burning fireplace, and the son blasts Granny in the head with a shotgun.

"This book should have shaken Adam's mom to the core and caused her to get him serious help," said psychologist Dr. Glenn Lipson. "Instead, years later, she died of four gunshots to the head."

details Lanza's disturbing behavior, including how he covered his bedroom windows with black plastic trash bags and played a host of ultra-violent video and computer games, including one called "School Shooting."

"This report shows that Adam Lanza was a robotic killing machine devoid of all humanity," renowned San Diego-based forensic psychologist Dr. Glenn Lipson told The ENQUIRER. "Causing maximum pain was his goal."

THE REPORT ALSO DETAILS Lanza's warped fascination with Columbine High School killers Eric Harris and Dylan Klebold – information The ENQUIRER broke way back in our Dec. 31, 2012 issue!

We revealed that two nights before his rampage, Lanza posted a message on a popular hacker website that said: "I'm going to kill myself on Friday and it will make the news, be watching at 9am." Under the message was a disturbing image of the bodies of his "heroes," Harris and Klebold, who slaughtered 12 students and a teacher in April 1999.

Lanza began his own rampage between 8 and 9 a.m. on Dec. 14, 2012, when he shot his 52-year-old mother Nancy to death with a .22-caliber rifle. Then he drove to the elementary school armed with a Bushmaster rifle, a 10mm Glock pistol, a Sig Sauer 9mm pistol and a "large supply of ammunition," according to the report.

Firing 154 rounds from the Bushmaster, Lanza killed 20 kids age 6 and 7 and six adults before shooting himself to death with the Glock.

"Adam was a prisoner of his own sick psyche," said Dr. Lipson. "It's hard to imagine a young man with a more unbridled hatred for everything around him."

JACK BEGS ANJELICA TO TAKE HIM BACK

Anjelica Huston has stayed in touch with Jack over the years

Aging womanizer is SCARED OF DYING ALONE

TERRIFIED of dying alone, Hollywood legend Jack Nicholson is desperately trying to win back ex-love Anjelica Huston, a source says.

But after ending their 17-year romance in 1989 over Jack's chronic skirt-chasing, the Oscar-winning actress is happy to remain just friends, the source adds.

"JACK IS LONELY, BORED WITH FILMMAKING and convinced he's living on borrowed time – and he wants Anjelica at his side when he leaves this earth," a longtime friend told The ENQUIRER.

RIELLE BROKE & DEPRESSED

Edwards' mistress devastated over love cheat's new girlfriend

JOHN EDWARDS' former mistress Rielle Hunter has hit rock bottom – she's broke, depressed and living like a recluse as the disgraced former presidential candidate runs around with a sexy single mom.

In a bombshell world exclusive, The ENQUIRER reported last month that 60-year-old Edwards has been secretly involved with 35-year-old medical worker Danielle King.

SINCE RECENTLY LEARNING OF THE romance, 49-year-old Rielle, who was hoping to become the next Mrs. Edwards, "has been wallowing in her own misery," revealed a close source. She's raising her 5-year-old love child with Edwards, Frances Quinn, and complains that she can't squeeze by on the $5,000-a-month he pays her. So sources say she made a desperate, last-ditch effort to win him back after learning about his new girlfriend.

But the ex-senator is said to still be seething over her plans to publish

"They had dinner recently and he poured out his heart, begging Anjelica for one more chance to make things right between them.

"He's consumed with reuniting with and even marrying Anjelica. They talk daily, and Jack sends her flowers and trinkets. He's even written her love poems. Jack's like a schoolboy, and Anjelica finds the turn of events to be incredibly amusing."

Triple Oscar winner Jack, 76, and Anjelica, 62, were once one of Hollywood's most glamorous couples. She won an Oscar while co-starring with Jack in the 1985 mob comedy "Prizzi's Honor," directed by her Oscar-winning dad John Huston.

Jack and Anjelica as a couple back in 1986

ANJELICA DUMPED JACK after learning actress Rebecca Broussard was pregnant with his love child, and she married famed sculptor Robert Graham in 1992. The couple had no children, and Anjelica was devastated when Graham passed away in 2008.

But over the years, Anjelica stayed in touch with Jack, who insists he's quit skirt-chasing and has dialed down his career.

"Jack claims he still reads scripts and there was some talk that Tom Cruise wanted to co-star again in a movie with him," said the source.

"But Jack seems to have given up acting, and he wants to enjoy his golden years with the woman he called 'Angel' at his side."

Anjelica, who played Morticia in "The Addams Family" films, mentions Jack in her just-published memoir "A Story Lately Told: Coming of Age in Ireland, London and New York," saying: "I wouldn't be happy not having him in my life."

But rekindling their romance appears to be another story.

"Anjelica and Jack will always be close," said the source. "But she's not ready for anything other than friendship."

"But John cruelly told her he was done with her and that she needed to find another sucker to leach off. He'll take care of their daughter, but he's through putting up with her shenanigans.

"RIELLE SOBBED AND THREATENED TO do something drastic, but John didn't buy it and just coldly walked away and back into the arms of his new girlfriend."

As The ENQUIRER reported, Edwards' relationship with King is already so close that she's become like a surrogate mom to his two youngest children with his late wife Elizabeth.

"Now Rielle barely gets out of bed and doesn't shower for days," said the source. "Still, John worries she has something up her sleeve and will attempt to derail his new lease on life."

Kelly Ripa

FURY OVER HUBBY'S

'OTHER WOMAN!'

Mark Consuelos HOT FOR SEXY ACTRESS YARA, 34

ENQUIRER EXCLUSIVE

KELLY RIPA is furious over the “other woman” her husband Mark Consuelos has been hooking up with in erotic scenes on his new Internet TV show, say sources.

Mark, 42, already has a history of flirty behavior, and now he’s filming red-hot love scenes with stunning Latina actress Yara Martinez, 34, on a web sitcom called “Alpha House.” She’s nearly a decade younger than Kelly and could open old wounds in the relationship as she throws herself into her sensuous role with passion, fear friends.

“I don’t think I ever had so many orgasms in a show,” the brunette spitfire recently told an interviewer. “It was fun though. I surrendered to it.”

APPARENTLY, THOSE COMMENTS didn’t sit well with mom-of-three Kelly.

“Kelly is furious over Yara’s remarks about ‘orgasms,’” said an insider. “She thinks it’s in very bad taste and certain to prove embarrassing to her kids. She thinks Yara is exploiting Mark – and her – for fame and is just fit to be tied.”

Meanwhile, Mark’s been gushing about Yara on Twitter and has even given her a pet name – “Yarritta Fritta.”

“It seems like Mark can’t stop talking about Yara,” noted an insider.

Mark and Yara – a Sofia Vergara look-alike – are steaming up the Amazon-produced “Alpha House,” which follows the lives of four wild-and-crazy U.S. senators living together in a Washington, D.C., townhouse.

Mark plays newly-divorced Florida Sen. Andy Guzman, a suave, womanizing Cuban-American.

In the first sizzling episode, his character wastes no time in hooking up with a beauty in a Senate cloakroom and later remarks: “I’m getting too

The two stars of “Alpha House” can’t stop gushing about each other. Mark even gave Yara the nickname “Yarritta Fritta”

Talk-show host Kelly thinks that Yara is exploiting Mark for fame and is “just fit to be tied”

Velazquez, while filming the cable TV movie “Husband for Hire.”

Sources reported at the time that Mark seemed “giddy” and “everyone could see he’d made a connection.” At the time Kelly’s spokesperson denied that the couple was having marital problems.

And now it seems he’s made another connection with Yara. Even though pals say Mark has never cheated on Kelly and has been nothing but “a perfect gentleman” with Yara, their on-screen chemistry on “Alpha House” is undeniable.

The show also stars John Goodman, but the source says: “Mark is stealing the spotlight, and he certainly lights up the screen with Yara.”

The sexy actress – who’s also appeared on “Southland,” “Chase,” “ER,” “The Unit” and “It’s Always Sunny in Philadelphia” – has been partying and promoting the show with Mark in New York, Los Angeles and Washington, D.C. They’ve also been exchanging Tweets. On Nov. 10, Yara reposted a Tweet from Mark that said: “Alpha House Party last night in LA,” with a photo of the cast. She added to his post saying: “NYC here we come. THE PARTY DOESN’T STOP!”

Publicly, Kelly has stood steadfastly by her man and has even promoted “Alpha House” on her gabfest, remarking, “Never before has Mark been so happy playing a character.” She even hinted that his high-testosterone role may have reinvigorated their marriage, declaring that the part has “breathed new life into him!”

But the insider said: “Behind the scenes, Kelly is fuming. Her attitude is ‘hands off my man – or there will be hell to pay!’”

old...for sex against the wall!”

Before the episode ends, he’s settled in with his new girlfriend Adriana de Portago, a bombshell Cuban-American played by Yara.

In an incredibly intense scene, Sen. Guzman (Mark) brings Adriana (Yara) to the townhouse he’s moving into with his three fellow senators. The first thing they check out is the bed. As the cameras roll, Mark jumps on Yara and throws a sheet over her head while she coos: “I approve of that...a little bit lower.”

In the second sexually charged episode, the characters have a wall-shaking, high-decibel romp.

“Mark and Yara are pretty hot together,” said the insider. “It’s a great role for Mark, but he’s got to remember that he’s also ‘Mr. Kelly Ripa’ and better watch his step!”

And internationally recognized relationship expert and founder of consum-mate.com Toni Coleman, told The ENQUIRER that it’s tempting for actors to stray in real life when performing in sexy scenes on film.

“I would warn Mark to keep his eyes on the boundaries,” Coleman said. “If you don’t, you can lose so much, and there is a lot of regret.”

THIS ISN’T THE FIRST TIME handsome Mark’s roles have caused concern, said a close source, and Kelly is well-aware of her husband’s penchant for on-set romances. After all, she and Mark had a torrid love affair when they first met on the set of “All My Children” in 1995.

And as The ENQUIRER reported in 2007, pals said the biggest hurdle that the couple would have to overcome is the fear that Mark will cheat when he travels for work while Kelly stays in New York to appear on “Live” and take care of their children, Michael, 16, Lola, 12, and Joaquin, 10.

“They’ve gotten into fights in the past over Mark’s decision to take acting roles in distant locations, leaving Kelly to juggle her job with looking after the children,” revealed a source. “I believe that one of her deepest fears is Mark will cheat on her.”

Sure enough, The ENQUIRER also reported in 2007 that Kelly was worried that Mark’s job on the NBC dating show “Age of Love” would doom their marriage. The program featured the heartthrob working alongside gorgeous single women looking to make a love connection – and Kelly felt it was a perfect recipe for temptation.

Later that year, The ENQUIRER revealed that Kelly had exploded and threatened divorce after learning Mark had been flirting outrageously in New Mexico with another beautiful Latina, actress Nadine

MICHAEL'S DESPERATE MEASURES

The actor's Christmas wish is a reconciliation with Catherine, says an insider

He begs Catherine's mom TO HELP SAVE MARRIAGE

MICHAEL DOUGLAS has enlisted an unlikely ally in his effort to win back estranged wife Catherine Zeta-Jones – his mother-in-law!

The 69-year-old actor and Catherine's Welsh mom, Pat, have never really hit it off. But sources tell The ENQUIRER that Michael bit the bullet for the sake of his two children with Catherine, son Dylan, 13, and daughter Carys, 10. The star had a heart-to-heart talk with Pat before Thanksgiving, hoping that she could convince her famous daughter to give the marriage another try.

"Michael is desperate to save the marriage because of the kids," said a source. "He poured out his heart to Pat and told her she had to get through to Catherine."

"Michael's effort to stay close to Dylan and Carys throughout their separation has really impressed Pat. And if she doesn't intervene, the couple will have no choice but to bring in the divorce lawyers after the holidays. Michael is dead-set against that. He wants a reconciliation."

Douglas divorce drama

Another insider told The ENQUIRER that Pat, 65, was particularly moved by how Michael pitched in with the kids over the summer while Catherine, 44, was recovering from a minor setback of her bipolar II disorder. The ENQUIRER reported that while Pat stayed at Catherine's side at the couple's home in Bedford, N.Y., Michael took the kids to a 250-acre lakefront property he owns in Canada.

AND A BRITISH NEWSPAPER recently revealed that Michael has stayed involved with the family, walking from his Manhattan bachelor pad to his former Central Park West home each morning to cook pancakes for Catherine and the kids. Then, according to the paper, he returns in the evening to watch TV with Dylan and Carys before they go to bed.

"Michael wants to get back together with Catherine – that's his Christmas wish," said the insider. "He loves those kids and doesn't want to neglect them the way he did (his jailed older son) Cameron."

"If it means hiking over to his old apartment every morning to whip up his kids' favorite fluffy pancakes with maple syrup, that's nothing for him."

"He's hoping Pat sees how hard he's trying and she can sway Catherine to give their marriage a second chance before it's too late."

The British report noted that Catherine was impressed by Michael's efforts, but the two have been living separate lives for the past eight months and haven't been photographed together since they attended an awards gala in New York City last April.

On Thanksgiving, Michael posted a photo of himself on Facebook standing on the balcony of his New York apartment during the Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade. In the background were his son Dylan and a pal.

Added the source: "Next Thanksgiving, he hopes Catherine will be in the picture too."

KELLY CLARKSON and new hubby Brandon Blackstock will be bringing up their baby in a palatial Tennessee dream home!

The "Catch My Breath" singer tied the knot with Brandon – country legend Reba McEntire's stepson – on Oct. 20. And after recently announcing they were expecting their first child together, she's thrilled to be starting off her new life in the opulent $2.86 million mansion in Henderson, Tenn.

"KELLY BOUGHT THE HOUSE in October 2012, almost a year to the day before she married Brandon, so she had plenty of time to remodel and redecorate the house for her new family," revealed an insider. "But Kelly started decorating the nursery first."

JESSICA SIMPSON HIRES SEX THERAPIST – insider

SEX-mad Jessica Simpson and fiancé Eric Johnson have hired a therapist to ramp up their already randy bedroom antics!

A longtime pal says Jessica, 33, signed up for weekly sessions with an expert in the Indian practice of tantric sex after reading about rock star Sting's five-hour tantric romps with wife Trudie Styler.

"Jessica and Eric are incredibly in sync, but practicing tantric sex has brought them even closer," the source told The ENQUIRER.

"WHILE IT SOUNDS LIKE IT'S ALL ABOUT sex, tantra is more about intimacy and also has a spiritual element."

In India, tantric sex – or neotantra – is considered a path to enlightenment. It can be practiced solo, with a partner or in groups with a guru.

Former pro football player Eric, 34, "is a big fan of Eastern religions and martial arts," added the insider.

"He meditates regularly and he's gotten Jessica into it too. Plus, he's always telling Jessica that it's important to connect with her breathing. So when Jessica read that deep breathing is a key element of tantra, she knew Eric would be totally into it."

But the couple – parents of daughter Maxwell, 19 months, and 5-month-old son Ace – don't get naked for sessions with the therapist, said the source.

"It's more like a yoga session mixed with couples' therapy," explained the insider. "They do breathing exercises and then the therapist encourages them to discuss their sexual fantasies. Jessica says it's helped them open up in ways that she never imagined."

But the sessions are paying off with more than just explosive sex, added the source.

"Jessica swears she has more energy, and her skin is constantly glowing," noted the insider. "She's telling friends that she's discovered the fountain of youth, and she's trying to talk all of them, even her single girlfriends, into trying it!"

Gina dropped her bombshell revelation while talking to TV host Andy Cohen

Gina Gershon COCAINE CONFESSION

‘Showgirls’ sexpot MAKES STUNNING TV COMMENT

HOLLYWOOD sexpot Gina Gershon declared that she snorted cocaine – and not a substitute – while filming the cable TV biopic “House of Versace”!

She dropped the bombshell while chatting with host Andy Cohen on Bravo’s “Watch What Happens Live” and left the impression that it was the real thing going up her nose.

“Gina was deliberately going for shock value and a ‘Did she or didn’t she?’ viewer reaction,” according to a network insider.

“Andy’s jaw just dropped and viewers were left scratching their heads as she tried to appear coy while delivering blockbuster details from the set at the same time.”

GINA, 51, PLAYED HARD-PARTYING fashion diva Donatella Versace, the sister of tragically murdered designer Gianni Versace. Donatella has admitted she was once addicted to cocaine for 18 years, and Gina didn’t hold back when a caller asked what she actually inhaled in the film.

“They tried to give me (powdered vitamin) B12, but I snorted cocaine,” the actress deadpanned.

She then high-fived fellow guest, actor Josh Gad of the Broadway hit “The Book of Mormon,” adding: “Totally not joking,” and then adding in a quieter tone: “Not!”

Gina continued: “No, they gave me a choice between B12 or soy milk. So I did cocaine.”

The actress is best known for her role as a bisexual Las Vegas stripper in the 1995 camp classic “Showgirls,” and she used that role to establish herself as a lesbian icon.

“Gina knows the power of keeping her fans guessing, and she certainly knows how to work an on-camera ‘moment,’” said the insider.

“I think she deliberately used the ‘real cocaine’ anecdote to generate controversy.”

BROOKE SHIELDS tracked down the owner of her first car – a maroon two-door 1983 Mercedes SEC – and decided to buy it back for sentimental reasons.

But to save a few bucks, the former “Suddenly Susan” star, who’s worth an estimated $20 million, got her assistant to negotiate the price without revealing it was for her. That way, the owner had no way to know he was dealing with a super-rich celebrity.

THE ASSISTANT TALKED THE owner down from his original $7,000 asking price to $5,500 – a tidy $1,500 savings for the penny-pinching performer.

“Brooke got a real steal,” said an insider, adding that similar Mercedes from that year “go for around $10,000.”

The vintage vehicle belonged to Cesar Dural, a 75-year-old retiree from New Jersey who’d bought it from Brooke’s late mom Teri Shields 20 years ago.

The statuesque 48-year-old beauty found out about the car after a fan showed her a for-sale picture of it with a caption saying it was “Previously Owned by Brooke Shields.”

“It was the first car she’d bought with her own money after making ‘Endless Love,’” revealed the insider. “It still had an ‘I love Gstaad’ bumper sticker Brooke stuck on it years ago after vacationing at the Swiss resort.”

Since making the purchase, Brooke had the car painstakingly restored and is said to be thrilled to cruise around in it.

“It looks like a million bucks,” said the insider. “And she drives it around Long Island when she and her family stay at their weekend mansion there.”

Troubled daughter's rehab secret as she ties knot in Vegas – then calls it off days later

HOLLYWOOD icon Clint Eastwood is devastated over his wild-child daughter Francesca's quickie Las Vegas wedding, sources say.

The 20-year-old blonde got sober after a rehab stint in 2012, but her famous pop's impending divorce, along with her split from a longtime boyfriend, triggered a stunning relapse, according to an insider.

And it all came to a head when she eloped with music manager Jordan Feldstein to the Simple Wedding Chapel after a drunken night on the town, the insiders add.

"Francesca is on a downward spiral of booze and painkillers after cleaning herself up last year," revealed a family friend.

"She's very close to her stepmother Dina, and there's no question that the divorce battle between Dina and her dad is bothering her.

An Elvis impersonator was on hand when Francesca – whose mom is actress Frances Fisher – walked down the aisle with Feldstein, brother of actor Jonah Hill, on Nov. 17.

Four days later, Francesca – Miss Golden Globe 2013 and star of the reality TV show "Mrs. Eastwood & Company" on E! – stepped out in public without a wedding ring, and family sources put out the word that she was seeking an annulment.

LEAH REMINI is trying to bury the hatchet with Katie Holmes – but only because she needs the “Batman Begins” beauty to help boost her payday for the anti-Scientology book she’s writing, say sources.

Although the women have both cut ties with the controversial church, insiders say Katie has “never really liked Leah” and has no intention of helping with the book. Without Katie’s name on the project, sources say the former “King of Queens” star won’t get the big-bucks advance she was looking for.

“LEAH’S HEARD OFFERS UPWARD of $5 million to write this book, but publishers know her name alone isn’t going to make it a blockbuster,” a source said. “She’s been told she needs to get Katie to contribute by relating her feelings about Scientology and backing up at least some of Leah’s charges.”

Leah, 43, publicly split from Scientology in July over disagreements with the church’s policies and leadership. Katie, 34, ended her association with the cult-like organization after splitting from Tom Cruise – the church’s most famous member – in June 2012.

So far, Leah, who ended a 10-week run on “Dancing with the Stars” on Nov. 18, has found Katie to be an unwilling dance partner when it comes

AFTER slamming the “Murder, She Wrote” reboot, Angela Lansbury has been invited to guest star on the new series. Sources say Oscar winner Octavia Spencer, who’s been tapped for the lead role in the updated version of the classic series, arranged for the 88-year-old Hollywood legend to do a guest gig on the show.

“WHEN OCTAVIA HEARD ANGELA felt snubbed by the reboot, she called Angela directly,” said an insider.

“She felt so bad over Angela’s negative reaction that she offered not to go ahead with the role unless Angela gave her blessing.”

“Angela was so touched. She apologized for her harsh words and wished Octavia the best.”

As The ENQUIRER has reported, Angela – who played crime-solving mystery writer Jessica Fletcher from 1984 to 1996 on the CBS drama – blasted the reboot because she secretly hoped to return to fictional Cabot Cove, Maine, at least one more time for a TV movie.

The updated version will air on NBC and feature Octavia as a hospital administrator who doubles as an amateur sleuth and self-published mystery novelist caught up in real-life cases.

After Angela sounded off about the new show, “Octavia asked the producers and writers to work out a two- to six-week story line for Angela,” said the insider.

“She also asked Angela to mentor her and give her tips on making the role just right.”

“Thankfully, Octavia was able to smooth over Angela’s ruffled feathers, and there’s no bad blood between them now.”

DISGRACED TV chef Paula Deen is facing yet another scandal after her troubled stepson was busted for a brutal beating – and sources say she’s desperately trying to hush up her family’s violent secret.

An ENQUIRER investigation has revealed that Anthony Groover – son of Paula’s tugboat captain hubby Michael Groover – was charged with a felony after he viciously attacked a man on a Savannah, Ga., street.

According to official documents, Anthony knocked his onetime close pal James Price unconscious and then pummeled the fallen man so mercilessly that he suffered a broken nose and eye socket!

Now, in an exclusive ENQUIRER interview, Price claims Anthony, 28, has gotten off without even a slap on the wrist – and he blames Savannah’s “good ol’ boy network” for shielding their biggest celebrity, Paula Deen!

Witnesses told police that “a white male from the SUV tackled Price into the wall, causing him to become unconscious, and punched him in the face multiple times.”

A bystander pulled Anthony off Price, and he fled in the SUV, cops said.

According to the official report, cops found Price “lying on the ground in blood with bruising on his face, lacerations on the front and back of his head, and a large amount of blood on his hands and head.”

Price says he was treated at a hospital and claims that after nearly $100,000 of reconstructive surgery, he still has problems seeing out of his right eye.

But Price claims Anthony ignored the order and harassed him with a threatening phone call and text messages.

Price complained to the district attorney’s office, and a motion was filed to revoke Anthony’s bond.

While Price said Chatham County Assistant District Attorney Anna Guardino assured him he’d be able to tell his side of the story in court, Price said that’s not what happened when a judge heard the motion in April.

“Anthony, his father, their attorneys and assistant D.A. Guardino were invited into the judge’s chambers, but I was not allowed to join them,” Price recalled.

"Life in Savannah has always been easier if you're related to Paula," said the source. "People there are so star-struck by her and her family that the majority of them would do almost anything to protect them."

Since Anthony's alleged attack on Price occurred, Paula has been under fire for using vile racial and gay slurs.

"Paula was being bombarded with bad press, and she was furious with Anthony for putting her reputation and business empire at further risk," explained the source.

"Paula has done everything she can to make sure Anthony's case remains buried, but it's also caused an avalanche of problems in her marriage because she's been taking out her anger on Michael."

As The ENQUIRER has reported, rumors that Paula, 66, and Michael, 57, are heading for divorce have long been rampant in Savannah. Tensions between them came to a head recently after she caught Michael cheating and he walked out on her.

"Anthony's recent criminal case is just another problem in a series of many that are piling up in Paula and Michael's marriage," said the source. "It's only a matter of time before it collapses!"

BODY BY JOKER JAKE!

Fitness guru is stand-up hit

“BODY BY JAKE” trainer to the stars Jake Steinfeld has taken his act to the Las Vegas Strip for a one-man show called “No Expectations.”

The show is a mix of stand-up comedy and inspirational talk, and Jake – who has trained A-list stars like Harrison Ford, Bette Midler and Steven Spielberg – promises to keep viewers laughing over his life experiences.

JAKE GREW UP A CHUNKY, stuttering Jewish kid on Long Island, then shocked his parents – and turned his life around – when he discovered weightlifting and decided to become a bodybuilder.

“Jake’s wildly funny anecdotes and behind-the-scenes stories about his life in Hollywood while on his path to becoming a fitness icon make his show a must-see,” says one industry source.

“No Expectations” premieres on RadarOnline.com on Dec. 8.

As The ENQUIRER recently reported, bighearted Jake has also declared war on childhood obesity by delivering state-of-the-art Live Positively Fitness Centers to six elementary and middle schools.

“By providing schools with the tools, we can, and will, win the war on childhood obesity,” proclaimed Jake, chairman of the National Foundation for Governors’ Fitness Councils.

Lindsay Lohan showed off her culinary skills, posting a yummy-looking tray of lasagna on Instagram.

NEIGHBORS of beloved “M*A*S*H” star Gary Burghoff – who played Radar O’Reilly on the hit ’70s show – fear that the publicity-shy star is suffering from mental decline, boozing and on a frightening downward spiral!

Sadly, the 70-year-old former actor is living as a virtual shut-in in a Florida RV park, and pals there are praying he gets help before it’s too late.

“Gary is starting to show early signs of dementia,” said a source. “He’s also drinking excessively and taking large amounts of Valium.

“GARY IS GETTING MORE AND more forgetful. He’s more agitated and gets angry over little stuff that never bothered him before.

“It’s a small community, so we all would just drop by to say hello or to chit-chat outside while smoking a cigarette or drinking a beer. But lately, if you drop by his place, Gary gets angry and tells you to go away. He’s never been that way until lately.”

Gary Burghoff played Radar O’Reilly on the hit ’70s show

In March, The ENQUIRER reported that Burghoff had moved to Nature Coast Landings, an RV park in Crystal River, Fla., near the Gulf of Mexico, where he loves to fish, ride his motorized bike and walk his dog through nature paths.

But things have changed over the past few months.

“Gary will not allow any of his old friends to visit him like he used to,” said the worried pal, who added that the former TV star’s RV is now filthy.

Burghoff, who is twice divorced and has three children, also owns a home in Connecticut. But he’s always preferred his life on the road in his RV.

The former actor lives in an RV park in Florida and no longer cares to socialize within the small community

In late November, an ENQUIRER reporter witnessed two of Burghoff’s neighbors drop bags of groceries at his front door after he refused to let them in. When the neighbors left, he scooped up the groceries and hurried back inside.

Later that day, Burghoff refused to answer his door for The ENQUIRER reporter but agreed to speak over the phone.

“IF I OPEN MY HOME TO you for an interview then it opens the floodgates for other people to start contacting me, asking for interviews as well – and the publicity is just not something I want in my life anymore,” Burghoff explained. “I’ve finally reached a place in life where people don’t recognize me or bother me because of that TV persona that I used to have, and I’m trying to do everything I can to preserve my peaceful life.

“I consider any fans I might have left my friends, and as my friends they should respect my privacy and find happiness in knowing that I’m happy, healthy, enjoying a peaceful life of retirement.”

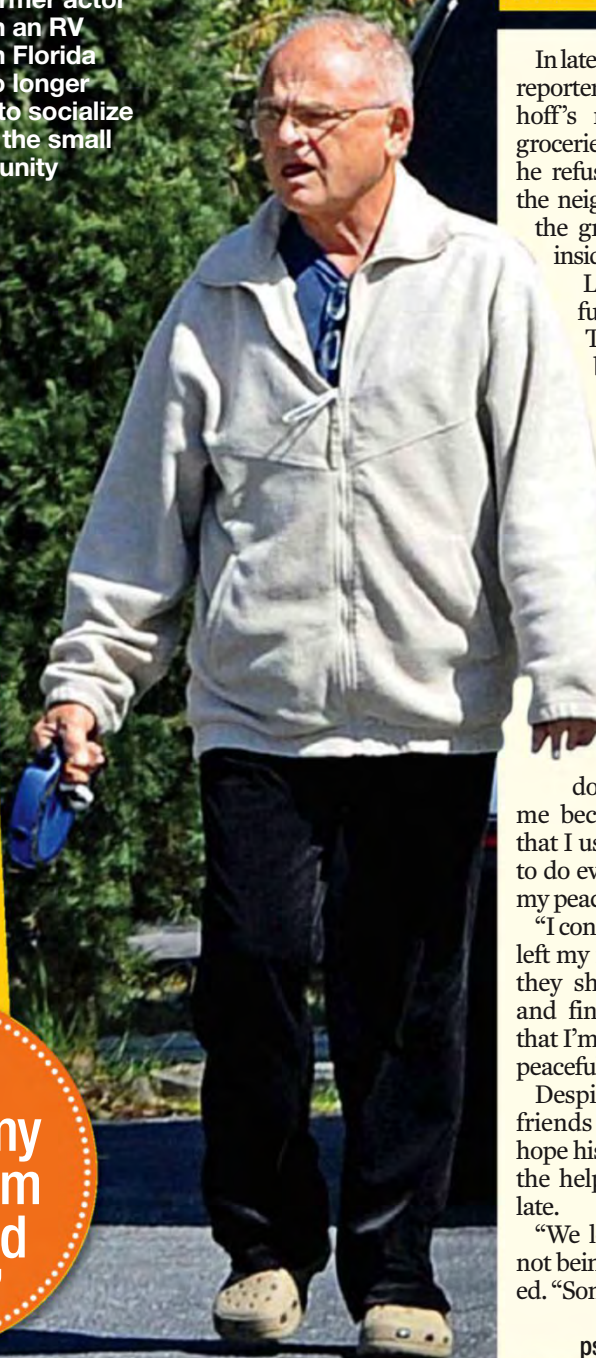

Despite his words, Burghoff’s friends aren’t convinced. They hope his family steps in to get him the help he needs before it’s too late.

“We love Gary and know he is not being himself,” the friend added. “Something is terribly wrong.”

PAUL WALKER
1973~2013

A LAST-minute change of plans cost Hollywood heartthrob Paul Walker his life!

In a blockbuster exclusive, The ENQUIRER pieced together the final minutes of the 40-year-old “Fast & Furious” star’s life and discovered that a sudden impulse to ride in his buddy’s Porsche Carrera GT led to the fiery crash that killed him, shocking movie fans around the globe.

The bighearted hunk had spent the afternoon with his beloved 14-year-old daughter Meadow at a Nov. 30 event for his charity, Reach Out Worldwide, in Valencia, Calif.

“One thing that really shined through was how much he and his daughter loved each other, because they were practically inseparable the entire day,” high-performance car enthusiast Michiko Sasaki told The ENQUIRER in an exclusive interview. “It’s very eerie that I spoke to Paul in the final moments of his life.

“I TOLD HIM HOW MUCH I ENJOYED him in the movies and about my love for high-performance cars. He said he was a big fan of the cars as well.”

Instead of heading home after the event, Paul – a self-confessed adrenaline addict – made a fatal mistake by convincing his pal and business partner Roger Rodas, a former racecar driver, to go for a ride in the cherry-red sports car.

The actor had a close relationship with daughter Meadow (above) and girlfriend Jasmine (inset)

“You could see Paul and Roger still in the car, completely unconscious””

‘FAST & FURIOUS’ HUNK’S FATAL LAST

TEEN DAUGHTER HEARTBROKEN

“They took off in the car – nothing too crazy – and disappeared around the corner,” recalled Sasaki. “Several moments later, there was a loud crash and a cloud of gray smoke rising about a block away. People were running to the crash scene, and when we arrived there were about 20 people with fire extinguishers trying to put out the flames.

“You could see Paul and Roger still in the car, completely unconscious, and nobody could do anything to help them.

“It was absolutely horrible, and the worst part was Paul’s daughter witnessed the entire thing.”

Sadly, the teen – the result of Paul’s brief romance with Rebecca McBrain – moved with her mom from Hawaii to California to be closer to her actor dad just two years ago.

Investigators at the death scene quickly determined that Roger, 38, had lost control of the speedster and it slammed into a light pole, killing both men. Authorities say that speed was a factor in the accident. While some reports say the car may have been racing along at 100 mph, others say that it was only going 40 to 45 when it came to a tight bend in

The actor admires his friend's Porsche Carrera GT at a charity event for his Reach Out Worldwide organization. He and his pal later lost their lives in the car

PAUL COULDN'T STAND VIN

FAST & Furious star Paul Walker had a shocking secret he took to his grave – his “friendship” with co-star

Vin Diesel was a total farce! In real life, there was no love lost between the two, sources told The ENQUIRER.

Since 2001, Walker, 40, and Diesel, 46, starred alongside each other in the hugely popular movie series about illegal street racing. The seventh installment was being shot when Walker was killed Nov. 30 in a fiery car crash.

After the accident, Diesel posted an online message saying: “Brother I will miss you very much. I am absolutely speechless.”

But sources say behind the scenes their egos frequently clashed to the point that “Paul often couldn’t stand to be in the same room with Vin,” revealed a close source. “He didn’t openly badmouth him, but what millions of fans never knew is Paul really couldn’t stand Vin.

“PAUL WAS CONVINCED VIN WAS ALWAYS TRYING to outdo him – stealing the limelight and fawning all over the producers so they’d make him look good.

“He considered Vin to be very self-centered.”

Even on screen, the two actors were complete opposites, with Walker playing an undercover cop and Diesel in the role of an ex-convict who’s also an elite street racer.

Tensions between the two apparently hit a fever pitch on the set of “Fast & Furious 6.”

“They ignored each other and refused to speak – sometimes for days,” revealed the close source.

Just days before his untimely death, Walker summed up their relationship. In an interview, he said the two men had respect for each other but added: “There are certain days I still want to crack him in the head...and there are days he wants to crack me in the head, too!”

Screen buddies’ bitter rivalry exposed

as action star goes to fiery grave

The actor's remains are removed from the scene. At left, Paul's “Fast & Furious” co-star and friend Tyrese Gibson breaks down crying during his visit to the site of the tragedy the road. Investigators also suspect that Roger’s steering went out, possibly due to a sudden loss of steering fluid.

In any case, the tragedy has left a trail of heartbreak, devastating the actor’s longtime 23-year-old girlfriend Jasmine Pilchard-Gosnell, who’d hoped for a bright future with the star.

Meanwhile, a makeshift memorial sprouted at the crash site, condolences poured in from all over the world and producers suspended filming of “Fast & Furious 7.”

Paul’s good friend and co-star, Tyrese Gibson, visited the scene and was overcome with emotion. He picked up a piece of the wreckage and posted a photo of it online along with the words: “At least I got to say I love you...our laughs and moments will live forever.”

Afternoon coffee DISRUPTS SLEEP

★ Think twice before reaching for that late afternoon or early evening coffee. It could leave you tossing and turning at night!

While it's been known that drinking coffee close to bedtime is not recommended, a new study from the American Academy of Sleep Medicine found that taking caffeine even six hours earlier reduced sleep by more than one hour. "Drinking a big cup of coffee on the way home from work can lead to negative effects on sleep just as if someone were to consume caffeine closer to bedtime," says lead researcher Christopher Drake. "People tend to be less likely to detect the disruptive effects of caffeine on sleep when taken in the afternoon."

Diabetes triggers OSTEOPOROSIS

★ If you suffer from Type 2 diabetes, you may be losing bone strength, confirms a new study.

A Mayo Clinic research team found that postmenopausal women with Type 2 diabetes had more bone deterioration than those without diabetes. "Clearly, the skeleton needs to be recognized as another important target of diabetes complications, concludes Dr. Sundeep Khosla.

Birth control DANGER

★ Caution! Women who take birth control pills for more than three years are more than twice as likely to be diagnosed with glaucoma – one of the leading causes of blindness in the U.S.

Researchers studied health information on more than 3,400 women who were 40 and older and found an association between glaucoma and oral contraceptive use. "Women who have taken oral contraceptives for three or more years should be screened for glaucoma and followed closely by an (eye doctor), especially if they have any other existing risk factors," advises Dr. Shan Lin of the University of California, San Francisco.

CONCUSSIONS have long-lasting effects

★ Symptoms might fade shortly after a mild concussion, but brain abnormalities can still exist four months later.

Researchers at the University of New Mexico School of Medicine came to this disturbing conclusion by comparing 50 people who had suffered a mild concussion to 50 healthy subjects.

"These findings may have important implications about when it is truly safe to resume physical activities that could produce a second concussion, potentially further injuring an already vulnerable brain," says researcher Andrew R. Mayer.

FAMOUS QUOTES FROM YOUR FAVORITE PEOPLE

Cryptograms are coded messages. To solve the Cryptogram, each coded letter must be replaced by the answer letter in the box overhead. When you solve the code for a letter, write the answer letter in the box everywhere the coded letter appears. Look for common words and letter patterns to break the code. Words like AND, I, THE and A are found frequently. Common word endings are ING, S and E.

Pain Doctor Discovers 'Miracle Socks' for Diabetics & Foot Pain!

Breakthrough circulation-boosting fibers improve blood flow, relieve swelling, boost oxygen flow, & eliminate foot fatigue in as little as 5 minutes!

If you suffer from poor circulation, injury, swelling or any condition that leaves your feet fatigued and sore, then read on to discover the breakthrough that can change your life. The new 'pain-busting microfiber' used to weave a circulation-boosting sock has been perfected, and it's called Bambusa™.

RESULTS IN MINUTES?

John G. of CA claims he felt immediate results with his tired, swollen feet. "Without exaggeration the relief was almost instantaneous. It is like a heating pad set to low and wrapped around my calf. I will be replacing my entire set of dress socks with these socks!"

RELIEF FOR TIRED, SWOLLEN FEET

Bambusa™ socks are not medical devices or compression socks because they don't restrict blood flow. Utilizing the special anion technology, they comfortably increase blood flow and oxygen to tissues. "My feet felt wonderful, cool, and I never get that pins and needles feeling anymore. I love my Bambusa™ socks," says Nancy, from NJ.

They are ideal for those who suffer from 'burning feet', poor circulation, or soreness from injury or repetitive use. Bambusa™ socks can also bring comfort to tired legs within minutes of wearing them, energizing anyone who spends long hours on their feet.

GOODBYE TO ACHES & NUMBNESS

Marilyn H. has suffered persistent foot problems for years and noticed fast results. "The issue for me was persistent numbness in my toes - it was gone completely after a few days of wearing these socks! Being diabetic, I never had pain-free feet - UNTIL NOW!"

"I went out on the golf course for 18 holes, and when I got home my feet weren't swollen, they weren't sweating and my feet didn't hurt." - Lou B., NY.

"Bambusa socks are absolutely the most comfortable socks I've ever worn! My feet are not fatigued!" ~ Anne M.

"Being Diabetic, I never had pain-free feet - UNTIL NOW!"

Say Goodbye to
Burning Feet!

Thermographic Imaging Shows The Difference!

Put An End To Achy Feet!

Does it feel like your feet are on fire? It could be because your feet are tired, or you have nerve damage or injury. 'Burning feet' can mean severe aching, stinging or a pins and needles sensation. This may also be accompanied by sweating, swelling, and inflammation. Good news comes in the form of a non-medical solution that may be able to end your foot problems.

Doctor Recommended

Pain Specialist of 30 years, Dr. Ronald Jahner comments on the 3D-weave technology. "Infrared therapy has been used for years at medical clinics for various vascular and circulatory conditions. Physical therapists use infrared therapy to speed recovery. Better blood flow equals less pain. This 3D-weave technology works much the same way to provide relief."

Therapy Without A Prescription!

When the socks were tested using a thermographic imaging camera, there was a 17% to 22% increase in blood flow, helping to improve muscle oxygenation and decrease foot fatigue. The socks have been shown to provide extended relief for hot/cold, swollen, or fatigued feet for thousands of customers.

BENEFITS:

- Increased blood flow & oxygen
- Reduced swelling
- Helps with aches and stiffness
- Anti-microbial
- Wicks away moisture
- Increased range of motion

IDEAL FOR:

- Neuropathy
- Raynaud's Syndrome
- Cramping
- Cold Feet
- Athletes

Psych: The Musical (Special 2-Hour Event)

Sunday, Dec. 15, 9 p.m. ET, USA Network

Fans of this oddball comedy mystery series, or "Psych-Os" as they call themselves, will be singing the praises of this clever, funny and thrilling episode that tells its story of murder and deceit mostly in melody. When a new Jack the Ripper musical hits town, the original playwright, Z, who was framed and institutionalized for burning a theater to the ground with a critic inside, breaks out to exact his revenge. Starved for clues, Shawn (James Roday) and Gus (Dule Hill) turn to Z's confidant in the looney bin – Shawn's playfully homicidal archnemesis Yang (guest star Ally Sheedy) – in this brilliantly conceived and entertaining musical that's good enough for Broadway.

Kirstie (Special Christmas Episode)

Wednesday, Dec. 18, 10 p.m. ET, TV Land

Maddie (Kirstie Alley) does Christmas for her recently discovered biological child, 27-year-old Arlo (Eric Petersen), in the only way she knows how – big and glitzy with a gingerbread house the size of a Mini-Cooper and a nativity scene with real actors – even the baby! But all Arlo wants is a simple Christmas like the ones he had with his adopted mom. So Maddie and her pals Thelma (Rhea Perlman) and Frank (Michael Richards) change tactics and try more low-key things, like stringing popcorn. But when Arlo brings Maddie's estranged mom, Shirley (guest star Cloris Leachman) – the biggest Grinch in the history of Grinches – home as a surprise, Maddie's Christmas gets mighty uncomfortable in this hilarious holiday episode.

Rodeo Girls

Thursday, Dec. 19, 10 p.m. ET, A&E

If you thought watching these cowgirls racing fast and furiously around the rodeo ring at top speeds was sexy, wait until you see them do it while almost buck-naked! The ladies let it all hang out on horseback as they try to beat each other's time in a bikini barrel-racing contest. Speaking of beating someone's time, hot-to-trot cowboy Anthony, who spurned model-turned-rodeo queen Darcy LaPier for rookie rider Jessica Holmberg, makes a big play for Jessica's young and tender heart in this action- and drama-packed series about living, loving and riding on the pro rodeo circuit.

The Exes (Special Christmas Episode)

Wednesday, Dec. 18, 10:30 p.m. ET, TV Land

Immediately following "Kirstie" tonight is this Christmas-themed episode of "The Exes." As the gang prepares for their very first "Xmas" together, Holly (Kristen Johnston) meets the perfect guy on an overseas flight. But when her dream man is denied access into the country, Holly must choose between staying at the airport with her new Romeo and spending the perfect Christmas with her friends. Both the "Kirstie" and "The Exes" holiday episodes will encore on Dec. 25 beginning at 10 p.m. ET.

BIG girls rule – and "Dancing with the Stars" winner Amber Riley is living proof!

But it hasn't always been easy. The feisty "Glee" star almost didn't make it in Hollywood because of her weight.

A decade ago, when she was a 17-year-old student at California's La Mirada High School, she was turned down for a shot on "American Idol" because she was too big.

"I was crushed," she said. "Rejection at a young age is hard."

At one point, 5-foot-2 Amber tipped the scales at a staggering 190 pounds, which limited her choice in roles.

"I WAS BEING offered the girl who sits in the corner and eats all day or the girl who committed suicide because she was fat," she recalled. "I never wanted to play a character that hated herself. I wanted people to know that those aren't the only roles for people like me – normal girls."

In 2008, Amber landed the part of Mercedes Jones on "Glee" and quickly became a fan favorite. And America fell in love with her all over again as she and pro partner Derek Hough cha-cha'd and samba'd their way to a Season 17 win, despite Amber's painful knee problems throughout the show.

Now that she's won the

HOW TO PLAY

You must fill in every empty square in the Sudoku grid. There's no right way of going about this, but there is only ever one solution. The big grid is split into nine mini-grids. There are nine rows running left to right and nine columns running down. In every row, you must have each of the numbers 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8 and 9. These can be in any order. The same applies to columns and mini-grids: place every number 1 through 9 in each column and in each mini-grid.

HOW SWEET SHE WAS!

'Honeymooners' star Jane Kean
WORKED TILL HER DEATH AT 90

ACTRESS Jane Kean was one of the last surviving members of TV's iconic "The Honeymooners" and inspired the "Flintstones" character Betty Rubble.

But when she passed away from complications of a fall at age 90 on Nov. 26, the vaudeville veteran – who played sewer worker Ed Norton's wife Trixie – was still working on a one-woman show.

"JANE WAS A GREAT PERSON and Jackie Gleason liked her, which was rare," actress Joyce Randolph – the original Trixie – told The ENQUIRER.

"Jackie was a very professional performer, but he was a cold human being. He was all business and it was impossible to get to know him on a personal level. But he was truly fond of Jane."

The two worked together in the 1940s on the vaudeville circuit and also appeared together in several stage productions in the '50s. When Gleason decided to revive "The Honeymooners" on his '60s variety show, he turned to Kean.

"Jackie just called her up one day and said 'come on down to Florida and play Trixie,'" said Randolph, 89.

Working for Gleason was tough because he hated rehearsing, Kean – who referred to herself as the "Lady Gaga of the Stone Age" in her one-woman show – recalled in a recent interview.

Jane
and TV
husband
Art Carney

"THE CAST WOULD HELP EACH OTHER ON THE spot if someone forgot a line," she said. "It was a real high-wire act."

Now that cast is all but gone. Gleason died in 1987 at age 71, his TV wife Audrey Meadows (Alice) passed on in 1996 at 69, and Art Carney (Norton) died in 2003 at 85.

"Jane was a wonderful actress and very funny and full of life," said Randolph. "I carry the torch alone as the only surviving original 'Honeymooners' cast member. It saddens me to think they are all gone."

ENQUIRER SCOOPS 'EM ALL OVER JORDAN BABY HOOPLA

BASKETBALL great Michael Jordan and his new wife are expecting a little bundle of joy just seven months after their wedding. But the baby news is no surprise to ENQUIRER readers!

IN MAY, THE ENQUIRER revealed that Michael's Cuban-born bride, Yvette Prieto, 35, had a secret plan to get around the iron-clad prenuptial agreement she signed – by getting pregnant...FAST! Already a proud papa of three grown children from his marriage to first wife Juanita, Michael, 50, wasn't looking to be a dad again.

Michael Jordan &
wife Yvette

YOU
READ IT
HERE
FIRST!

But Yvette apparently had other plans. In the event of a divorce, the prenup guarantees Yvette $1 million for every year the marriage lasts, jumping to $5 million per year if it lasts a decade or more.

Insiders told The ENQUIRER at the time of the wedding: "Yvette figures if she has children with Michael, she'll have a hold on him forever, even if their marriage collapses. The support payments alone would add up to more than $1 million a year for each child, and the money would keep rolling in for at least 18 years!"

"She told a friend, 'If I have Michael's babies, I'll be set for life!'"

And now that a baby's on the way, The ENQUIRER can say...we told you so!

SURFER SURVIVES

SHARK ATTACK

— by throwing punches!

A FORMER boxer used skills he learned in the ring when he was attacked by a nine-foot shark while surfing in Hawaii!

"It was do or die," said Jeff Horton about the near-deadly Oct. 20 incident.

The 25-year-old ex-fighter and about 10 other surfers were enjoying the clear sunny weather off Kilauea when someone spotted an ominous fin in the water.

Jeff was sitting on his seven-foot surfboard with his legs dangling when he saw the dark shape closing in on him from the left.

AT FIRST, HE SAID HE "DIDN'T" think much of it," figuring it was a fairly harmless stingray. But when he noticed its torpedo-like shape, he realized that he was under attack by one of nature's fiercest predators — a man-eating shark.

"It came flying straight toward me," said Jeff.

He managed to pull his legs clear just as the creature's menacing jaws clamped down on the board with a bite force of more than 1,000 pounds per square inch.

"When it came up on me, I jerked my foot away and kicked it a couple of times," he recalled. "It bit my surfboard but missed my foot."

The force of the blow knocked him off of his surfboard, and he found himself in close combat with the killer shark. He says he instinctively grabbed a fin and then "started punching as hard as I could. I thought I was going to die unless I put up the best fight I ever had."

He believes he got in about eight good shots, including one to the eye. Under the flurry of punches, the shark released the surfboard. Horton managed to pull himself back onto his board, which now had inch-deep bite marks in a semi-circular pattern.

Jeff Horton managed to avoid getting bitten by a shark, although his surfboard wasn't so lucky

Still dazed, he caught a wave with the help of a fellow surfer and headed for shore in a hurry.

"At that point I was pretty much in full panic," he admitted. "I saw the shadow of his belly following me underneath."

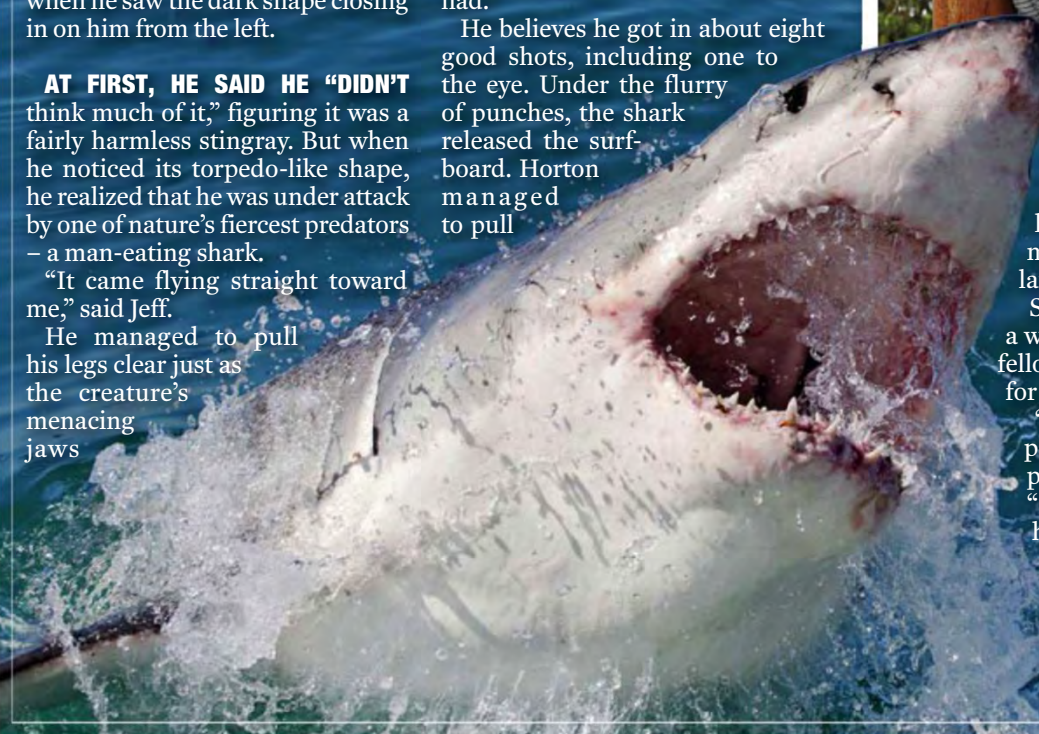

But the shark didn't attack again, and Horton escaped with no injury except for some scratches from the shark's sandpaper-like skin.

When he reached the beach, he felt like the luckiest man on earth. A tourist gave him $50 to celebrate, telling him to buy a bottle of booze. And he decided to retire the board with plans to hang it on the wall as a reminder of his boxing match with the deadly predator.

While shaken, the self-proclaimed adrenaline junkie vows that the frightening encounter won't keep him out of the water.

"It's exciting," he said about surfing. "I like to live on the edge and do things that scare me a little bit. It makes me feel alive."
